

ARRIANA ACUNA

THE GLOBAL MEDIA EXPERT

Arriana Acuna is the visionary media producer behind the world's most authentic founder brands. With her God-given gifts of deeply seeing humans and magnifying their intellectual property into the world, she reflects your truth, your patterns, and your power with surgical clarity freeing you from the strongholds keeping you small. As the founder and CEO of Operations Media, a global done-for-you content agency, and Sovra Holdings, where she acquires and scales media companies and podcast studios, Arriana transforms founders into magnetic thought leaders through her proprietary Viral Breakdown process that extracts your intellectual property and turns your raw genius into a scalable content engine. Before building a media empire, she spent nearly a decade leading operations across multi-regional healthcare networks, giving her the rare ability to marry creative vision with operational execution. Arriana Acuna is not just creative. Not just an operator. She's the rare fusion of both and the woman you want in your corner when you're ready to stop hiding and start leading.
